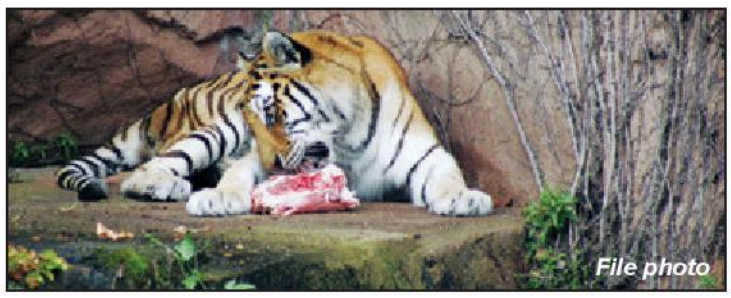
Mutton diet for Zoo animals as beef is banned



File photo

Mysuru, May 28 (MTY&BCT)- Following the Centre's decision to ban beef, authorities of Sri Chamarajendra Zoological Gardens, popularly known as Mysore Zoo, is all set to change the menu of carnivorous animals.

Big cats like the tigers, lions, leopards and other carnivorous animals like hyena, wild dogs and wild cats will be fed mutton and chicken. The Zoo will have to give up buying cow and buffalo meat as cattle (as per the notification issued by the Union Environment Ministry), covers all bovine animals, including bulls, cows, buffalo, steers, heifers, calves and camels.

The Zoo procures 310 kilograms of beef every day through a contractor. It needs 113.15 tonnes of beef every year for its carnivorous animals. "We will have to switch to mutton and chicken to replace beef," Zoo Authority of Karnataka Chairperson Mallige Veeresh told Star of Mysore this morning.

"Beef is a major source of nutrition for carnivorous animals. Usually we feed bigger cats with beef as it is solid to bite. They will now have to be fed with mutton and smaller carnivorous animals will have to be given chicken pieces," she said.

But it will not be easy for the Zoo management to switch to mutton all of a sudden. While a sudden change in the food pattern would affect animals, purchasing mutton will be an expensive affair. A kilogram of beef costs Rs. 200 while mutton costs Rs. 450 per kilogram and during festivals, the prices touch Rs. 600.

Going by the present requirement, the Zoo has to spend Rs. 1,39,500 every day to procure 310 kilograms of mutton at a price of Rs. 450 per kilogram. Even if the meat is purchased in bulk rate, that too will be expensive, said Zoo sources.

There are over three lions and seven tigers at the Mysuru Zoo. An adult male lion or a tiger is currently fed 15 kilograms of beef while an adult lioness consumes up to 12 kilograms. Cubs consume four to six kilograms depending on their age and built.

The Zoo management has to float a new tender now for the supply of goat and sheep meat.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

It has become a fashion in some elite Indian circles to bash Hinduism or issues related to it. It has also been taboo in these same intellectual circles to discuss what I think is a very reasonable request — we should have a Ram temple in Ayodhya. Elites, particularly in the English media, have bullied almost all voices that desire a temple at the sacred site into silence. It is frankly ridiculous that we have to beg to restore a temple at one of Hinduism's greatest sites.

The first argument against the temple is 'Why disturb the status quo?' Its proponents say there is an issue, but it is dormant. So why disturb it and risk destroying the peace? Well, there is no reason why peace should be disturbed in the first place. I think the Muslim community, or the various leaders that claim to represent it, should give its blessing to the temple in any case. This is no ordinary site. As per Hindu faith, it is the birthplace of Lord Rama, one of the most worshipped Gods in the religion. Diwali is India's biggest festival. Thousands of mosques stand on erstwhile temples in India, courtesy Mughal rulers. Nobody is asking to restore those. But this is Lord Rama's birthplace, replaced by simply one more mosque. That mosque can be shifted. The holy site of Lord Rama's birthplace is a matter of centuries of faith. We can't shift that. The mosque can, and a grander one can be made nearby, or even right next door. Why wouldn't the Muslim community accommodate such a reasonable appeal? Is it because some of their self-styled leaders are politically instigated not to do so? I am sure the general Muslim population of this country will approve of such a request. We just need to approach them directly. In the age of social media, we can.

Trash cans into beautiful vases

New York: If you live in New York City (NYC), chances are you've already stumbled across a most peculiar sight – a public trash containing a large, colourful arrangement of flowers, making it look like a giant vase.

The unusual flower vases are the work of Lewis Miller, a local floral designer who uses leftover flowers and decorative plants from weddings and other events to add a bit of colour to the grey, gloomy sidewalks of NYC. He and his team at Lewis Miller Design look for the most attractive garbage cans in the city and get up early in the morning to fill them with dozens of beautiful flower, eventually turning them into huge vases. Following a popular Vogue article on this unique project, Miller and his team have come to be known as the "flower bandits" of New York.

Everything is paid for out of Lewis' own pocket, but he says that seeing the smile on people's faces when they see the unusual flower arrangements is all the reward he needs.

Marriage is walking barefoot on broken glass!

Madrid: Couples looking for a unique and unforgettable wedding day experience can now add walking barefoot on broken glass on their list of options. But a Spanish company believes that couples will actually pay them for the opportunity to do exactly that on the day of their wedding.

Wedding Glass is the first company in Spain, and probably the world, to offer walking on broken glass as a wedding ritual, but they believe that it will soon become a trend in the business, as couples these days are no longer happy with just the classic church ceremony and subsequent party. The service provided by Wedding Glass is called "The Crystals of Love." It's an interesting concept, but walking barefoot on broken glass can be a daunting task, so Wedding Glass offers training sessions prior to the wedding day ritual, to ensure both that the newly-weds don't hurt themselves on their big day, and that they have the right attitude when walking on the glass.

MHRD's 'Teach in India' programme at SJCE

Mysuru, May 28- Ministry of Human Resource and Development (MHRD), Government of India, has launched the "Global Initiative for Academic Networks" (GIAN) programme with an aim at tapping the talent pool of scientist and entrepreneurs of international repute to encourage their engagement with the institutes of higher education in India.

Fifty elite Indian Institutes including IIT, IISc and NITs have been selected under GIAN programme and JSS Science and Technology University's SJCE is one among the three institutes from Karnataka. In all, ten GIAN programmes were sanctioned to SJCE and the tenth GIAN of Department of Biotechnology on "Personalised Cancer Medicine" will be delivered by Prof. Sandeep Prabhu, Professor of Immunology and Molecular Toxicology at The Pennsylvania State University, USA, from May 29 to June 10 at the college.

Overview of the programme: The type of cancer a person is suffering from – and how it gets treated – is no longer just about where in the body the cancer started.

The approach of doctors today has changed, from a traditional way to a more specific targeted way. Now they are equipped with a wealth of knowledge about the specific molecular and genetic makeup of their patient's tumor.

Prof. Sandeep Prabhu

The present day scientist and research groups have embraced this modern approach of personalised cancer care. Study and research in this direction is very much needed to speed up the progress of personalised medicine for all.

In this context, the present course is designed to equip the students with an in-depth knowledge of the molecular conformations which are responsible for cancer and the promise personalised medication proposes towards achieving a better life.

Dr. N. Haraprasad and Dr. B.P. Hema, Department of Biotechnology, SJCE, Mysuru are the coordinators of this programme which will be inaugurated on May 29 at 10.30 am in the Seminar Hall of Golden Jubilee Bhavan.

A man and his wife were having some problems and were giving each other the silent treatment. The next week, the man realised that he'd need his wife to wake him at 5 am for an early flight. Not wanting to be the first to break the silence, he finally wrote on a piece of paper: "Please wake me at 5 am." The next morning the man woke up, only to discover it was 9 am and he'd missed his flight. Furious, he was about to go and scream at his wife when he noticed a piece of paper by the bed that said: "It's 5 am. Wake up!!

More on 'Sons of Kodagu'

K.B. Appachu

Sir,

This refers to the article titled 'Son of Kodagu leaves his footprint on snow clad mountains' published in two parts in SOM dated May 5 and 6, 2017 about K.B. Appachu.

I had written in this column under the title 'Vanishing Kodavas: Some facts' (SOM dated Oct. 4, 2015), that Kodavas are well-educated, disciplined and civilised people capable of acquitting themselves well in their chosen fields, particularly excelling in armed forces and sports.

From the photo published in the article, I could immediately recollect his face-cut and past history. I had seen K.B. Appachu as a boy, being my neighbour at Virajpet during my high school days. His father Kalyatanda Belliappa was a teacher for manual training (Carpentry) in Government Model School. He was also a noted Scout-Master.

K.B. Appachu had a younger brother whom they used to call Shambu and an elder sister Polly, who was my classmate. Glad to know about him and his rise in life after several decades.

NOTE: Here we reproduce the letter titled 'Vanishing Kodavas: Some facts' for the reading pleasure of 'Star of Mysore' readers. —Ed

It's Kodavas all the way!
Vanishing Kodavas: Some facts

Sir,

Though Kodavas belong to ethnic minority tribes of Kodagu, they were quick enough to adapt themselves to civilisation under British influence, when Kodagu, then known as Coorg, was a 'C' Class State under British rule.

With literacy and civilisation, they soon entered the mainstream of our national life emerging as a martial race and went on to occupy important positions in armed forces, sports and other walks of life.

The first Indian to become Commander-in-Chief of Indian Army was Field Marshal K.M. Cariappa (a Kodava), who succeeded the last British Army Chief Butcher.

The first Chief Commissioner (CC) of the erstwhile Coorg State after the exit of the last British CC Gordon was Dewan Bahadur Ketolira Chengappa (Kodava).

When Coorg (Kodagu) was merged with Karnataka and became a district, the post of the Chief Commissioner was re-designated as Dy. Commissioner and the first DC of the newly-formed Kodagu District was I.C. Subbiah (a Kodava).

Will not these achievements bear ample testimony to the calibre of Kodavas, with their minority status notwithstanding?

Will waive off Co-op. Bank farm loans within 24 hours of coming to power: BSY

Bengaluru, May 28 (KMS& DM)- Claiming that farm loans in Co-operative Banks will be waived off within 24 hours if he was voted to power, State BJP President and former Chief Minister B.S. Yeddyurappa (BSY) has urged Chief Minister Siddharamaiah to come to the rescue of the distressed farming community by waiving off farm loans.

At a meet-the-press event here on Saturday, Yeddyurappa said during his recent visit to drought-hit areas, he found goshalas without sufficient fodder.

Referring to Mahadayi river water sharing issue, he said that he is ready to talk to the Chief Ministers of Goa and Maharashtra and get justice for Karnataka. Similarly, Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and senior congress leaders should take up the responsibility of convincing the Opposition leaders in those two States, he added.

Maintaining that age will not come in the way of his becoming Chief Minister, the State BJP Chief said that he was now 74 and would enter his 75th year by the time a new Government is formed in the State in 2018.

Pointing out that Prime Minister Narendra Modi and Party National President Amit Shah have already announced that he is the Chief Ministerial candidate, Former Chief Minister B.S. Yeddyurappa addressing the gathering at a meet-the-press in city yesterday as former Dy.CM R. Ashok looks on.

Yeddyurappa asserted that there is no confusion in this regard.

Continuing, he said that National BJP President Amit Shah, while giving him the responsibility of accomplishing Mission-150, had clarified the age norm to him and added that the age criteria is not applicable to Karnataka.

Replying to another question, the BJP strongman claimed that he is free of corruption charges. Hence, there are no hurdles for him to become the Chief Minister, he added. Noting that de-notification cases against him pending in the Court would not be a deciding factor in the coming elections, he said that all the Chief Ministers had de-notified land during their tenure.

Stating that there were only two cases pending against him in the Court, Yeddyurappa maintained that he had been cleared of all charges in other cases.

"I don't think charges of corruption against me will be an issue with the public in the coming Assembly elections," he said.

Declaring that he would seek votes in the name of development, he said that it was not corruption against him, but corruption of the Siddharamaiah Government that would aid him in becoming the CM again.

Reiterating the party's demand for farm loan waiver, Yeddyurappa said that if the State Government fails to waive off farmers' loans by July end, then a massive protest by over three lakh farmers will be staged in Bengaluru.

Yeddyurappa, who is also the Shivamogga MP, said that there was an overwhelming demand from the people for him to contest from Shikaripura Assembly segment, which is at present represented by his son B.Y. Raghavendra. He would discuss the issue with senior party leaders and then take a call, he added.

'Yeddyurappa will be BJP's CM face in Karnataka'

New Delhi, May 28- Former Karnataka Chief Minister B.S. Yeddyurappa will be the BJP's Chief Ministerial face in the Assembly polls scheduled early next year, Party National President Amit Shah said on Friday.

Amit Shah

During an interaction with the media, Shah also indicated that Gujarat Chief Minister Vijay Rupani would be the party's choice for the top post in the State, asserting that it would win more than 150 seats in the Assembly polls slated later this year. The Assembly has 182 seats.

"It (Karnataka election) will be fought under Yeddyurappa," Shah said. Asked if it meant that Yeddyurappa, who is the BJP's Karnataka unit Chief, will be the Chief Ministerial face, he said, "He will be."

The Karnataka unit has been facing factional fight with a group headed by former Deputy Chief Minister K.S. Eshwarappa targeting Yeddyurappa's leadership.

To a question on the party's state of affairs in Karnataka, Shah said that he would visit the State soon.

The party had recently taken action against some leaders, suspected to be behind the internal wrangling.

Baby girl rescued from traffickers dies in Mandya Children's Home

Mysuru, May 28- A 14-month-old trafficked baby girl, who was one among the 16 kids, who were rescued by the District Police and admitted to Vikasana Children's Home in Mandya, reportedly died yesterday.

Mysuru District Child Protection Officer Nagaraju, who visited Vikasana, said that the authorities there informed him that the child died due to asphyxiation (dying from lack of oxygen) while she was being fed milk.

Quoting the authorities, Nagaraju said that the baby apparently displayed symptoms of epilepsy before turning blue and added that though the baby was rushed to the hospital, it was too late.

While the Police have registered a case of unnatural death, the exact reason is yet to be ascertained.

It may be recalled that the District Police had busted a child-trafficking racket for illegal adoption, involving two maternity homes in city last year and had rescued the kids from illegal caretakers and entrusted the kids to Child Welfare Committee (CWC). The CWC handed over four children to Bapuji Children's Home in Mysuru and six children each to Vikasana in Mandya and Janapada Seva Trust in Melkote. Recently, the Mysuru District Child Protection Officer released the photograph of the girl in a bid to trace her biological parents.

He was speaking after releasing 'Samagra Nataka Samputa' authored by D.A. Shankar at a function organised at Dr. Sri Shivarathri Rajendra Auditorium at JSS Hospital premises, here yesterday.

Stating that there were not much theatre activities in Kalamandira, Moily said that only new theatre experiments could attract people towards theatre.

"Theatre activities have vanished even from schools as people are inclined towards television. There is a need to create awareness about theatre to new audience," he added.

Senior Theatrist Prof. H.S. Umesh, Litterateur Dr. C.P. Krishna Kumar, MLA Vasu, Publisher D.M. Lokappa and author D.A. Shankar and others were present.

In protest against online sale of medicines

Medical shops to shut down on May 30

Mysuru, May 28 (SP&DM)- In response to the Nationwide strike call given by the All India Organisation of Chemists and Druggists (AIOCD) and The Karnataka Chemists and Druggists Association (KCDA), in protest against online sale of medicines and to press for fulfilment of various demands, all medical shops will observe a one day bandh in the city on May 30 (Tuesday).

Announcing this at a press meet at Patrakarthara Bhavan here yesterday, The Mysuru District Chemists and Druggists Association (MDCDA) Secretary K.Manjunath said that all pharmacies and medical shops in the city will be closed between midnight of May 29 and midnight of May 30.

Detailing the reasons for the May 30 bandh call, Manjunath said that their main demands included a complete stop to online business by e-Pharmacies which are carrying out sales in violation of the provisions of Drugs and Cosmetics Act, 1940, dispensation of medicines only under the supervision of a Pharmacist, stern measures to prevent narcotic and psychotropic medicines falling into the hands of young people, ensuring availability of life saving drugs in the rural areas and elimination of confusions in the renewal of pharmacy licences among others.

Manjunath sought the co-operation of the public and patients for the bandh, which is called for fulfilment of their just demands.

He further said that pharmacies attached to hospitals and nursing homes have been exempted from the bandh in order to meet emergency situations.

A signature campaign will be launched in front of Mahatma Gandhi's bust near Law Courts complex at 10 am on May 30, he added.

MDCDA President K.V. Prakash and Treasurer U.S. Harish were present.

GST: Hotels, lodges in Mysuru will not close on May 30

Mysuru, May 28- All hotels, restaurants and lodges in Mysuru will remain open on May 30 despite the dawn-to-dusk bandh called by the Hotels Associations of South India in protest against levy of GST ranging from 12 percent to 28 percent.

The call for the bandh was given by the Tamil Nadu Hotels and Restaurants Association and the South India Hotels and Restaurant Association (SIHRA) has expressed its support for the bandh.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Mysuru Hotel Owners' Association President C. Narayanagowda said that though they have extended their moral support to the bandh call, they would not close their establishments.

"The Mysuru Hotel Owners' Association is holding a health camp on May 30 for the welfare of hotel workers and we have already called Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep to the event. We will submit our representations to the DC regarding the bad effects of GST and are also scheduled to meet representatives from the Central government and we will convey our concerns," he said.

The bandh will not have its impact in Mysuru but likely to affect hotels, lodges and restaurants in Bengaluru, he added.

In its press statement, the SIHRA has said that since 2009, the hospitality and hotel industry has been reeling under economic and other conditions. The recent Supreme Court order to close down hotels and bars within 500 metres of the National and State Highways has crippled the business of hotels, which were located on arterial roads.

While the industry was trying to come to terms on this issue, Union Finance Minister Arun Jaitley dropped the bomb shell announcing levying of GST from 12 to 28 percent on restaurants and hotels. SIHRA also urged all its members to participate in the bandh.

"Already Hotel Associations of Karnataka, Andhra Pradesh, Telangana and Pondicherry have extended their support for the bandh," it added.

"Despite numerous representations, memorandums to the authorities, the Union Government has proposed a levy ranging from five to 18 percent on different categories of restaurants and a steep levy of 28 percent GST on hotels with room tariff above Rs. 5,000," it added.

Death of new-born baby

Cheluvamba Hospital RMO denies charges

Mysuru, May 28 (RK&DM)- Cheluvamba Hospital authorities have denied charges of negligence, made by the parents of a new-born child, which died within hours after it was born in the hospital on Tuesday.

The parents of the child, who were from Nanjangud taluk, had staged a demonstration in the hospital premises, accusing the doctors of negligence.

Speaking to SOM yesterday on reports of the death of the infant which appeared in a section of the press, Cheluvamba Hospital Superintendent Dr. V. Manjunath said that the infant may have died due to abdominal infection.

However, the Hospital authorities are looking into the exact cause of the infant's death, he said while ruling out the parent's allegations that their child died due to medical negligence.

Demonetisation balances economy, says Anil Bokil

Noted Pune-based economist speaks about note ban, black money, tax evasion

Star of Mysore Editor-in-Chief K.B. Ganapathy is seen felicitating Anil Bokil, Founder of ArthaKranti Pratishthan, in city yesterday as (from left) Namma Mysuru Foundation Trustee Brahmachar, President S.K. Dinesh, CII Mysore Zone Chairman Arjun Ranga and Namma Mysuru Foundation Treasurer Yashwanth Kumar look on.

Mysuru, May 28 (YDS&BCT)- "Instead of demonetisation, the Narendra Modi Government was suggested e-monetisation that will lead to digital transformation where cash will flow into the system," said Anil Bokil, Founder of ArthaKranti Pratishthan, the Pune-based think-tank.

Bokil has been working for and propagating cashless transactions for the past 20 years and had met Narendra Modi when he was the Chief Minister of Gujarat and had spoken to him on demonetisation. He came to limelight after Modi announced demonetisation policy on November 8, 2016. The idea of demonetisation is widely believed to be Bokil's brainchild.

Bokil was in the city yesterday to deliver a talk on "Demonetisation - A boost to Indian Economy" that was organised by Namma Mysuru Foundation, Confederation of Indian Industries (CII) and ArthaKranti Pratishthan at Rotary Hall on KRS Road here.

"We had suggested to the Government that a sudden ban on big denomination notes like Rs. 500 and Rs. 1,000 would lead to a lot of problems and would inconvenience the common man. We had not suggested introducing Rs. 2,000 denomination notes and it takes Rs. 3.60 to print each Rs. 2,000 note," he said.

The 55-year-old mechanical engineer has been an employee, employer, entrepreneur, economic theorist, and activist. He is happy that Prime Minister Narendra Modi has set in motion one of the big ideas that ArthaKranti Pratishthan has proposed.

"Demonetisation was a much-needed move," he said and added that the main intention of note ban is to flush out black money, stop the menace of fake notes and to bring in transparency.

"Indian economy had excess cash and most of that cash was unaccounted-for money. This extra cash in the economy was of no help to either the Government or the people. Demonetisation is an effective decision because it has reduced black money from the cash in circulation. Demonetisation is what you call a dynamic balancing of an economy," he explained.

Tax has to go to the Government to run the country and people have, since years, managed to evade taxes and have hoarded black money, causing huge losses to the Government. People have stashed cash in their homes and that money never got into the economy. This money was of no use to anyone. Demonetisation has encouraged digital payments and that would encourage people to keep cash in banks instead of hiding it in their homes," Bokil said.

Star of Mysore Editor-in-chief K.B. Ganapathy felicitated Anil Bokil on the occasion.

Seed ball culturing marks

Swachh Bharat Abhiyaan in city

Mysuru, May 28 (RKB&DM)- More than 250 volunteers, who included nature lovers, environmentalists, tourists including foreign tourists, women and children took part in the 'Green Chamundi Abhiyana,' launched by Clean Mysuru Foundation, near Shivananda Ashrama at the foot of Chamundi Hill here this morning.

The initiative, which is aimed at creating green canopy in and around Chamundi Hill, is supported by H.V. Rajeev Sneha Balaga, Sri Kshetra Dharmasthala Gramabhiruddhi Samsthe, Kalki Bhagavan Manavasevalaya, Sri Guru Raghavendra Samiti, Spandana Trust, People Tree, Swachha Mysuru Samsthe, Samarpana Foundation, Infosys, Namana Mysuru Foundation, Jain Samaj, Aruna Green Ventures, Let's Breathe Mysuru and a host of other organisations.

The Abhiyana began at 7 am with volunteers formulating and demonstrating seed ball culturing. Under this initiative, medicinal plants / shrubs, fruit-bearing and environmentally sustainable seed varieties will be planted through seed ball culturing.

Seed ball or earth ball concept: Growing forests through seed ball culture is an innovative method and adopted by many world communities to create sustainable forests. Clean Mysuru Foundation is adopting and attempting this method by utilising red soil, cow dung and urban compost mixture (urban compost manufactured by Mysuru City Corporation by utilising home generated wet waste).

The Foundation had procured seeds of Seethaphala, Ala, Arali, Hatti (cotton), Goni, Bamboo, Tamarind, Neem etc., from Karnataka Forest Department's seed division at Nagavala in the taluk and also purchased medicinal variety seeds for this seed ball culture programme.

The Foundation has set a target of creating green canopy in and around Chamundi Hill in a period of five years using 1 lakh seed balls and today's programme saw the making of nearly 30,000 of them. The second round of the programme will be held on June 4, 2017.

Even as the volunteers got busy making seed balls, artistes of Arivu Cultural troupe rendered songs on nature and environment in a bid to inspire them.

Clean Mysuru Foundation Hon. President Dr. C.G. Betsurmath, who is also former MCC Commissioner, speaking on the occasion, said that the Foundation was attempting the seed ball culture for the first time for greening Chamundi Hill environs.

Declaring that the Foundation aims to make 5 lakh seed balls in the coming days, Prof. Betsurmath said that earlier experiments with seed ball culture elsewhere in the world had attained 80 percent success.

Pointing out that a natural way of growing trees using seed ball culture along with plantation, would be able to address the serious issue of depleting forest cover, he said that the speciality of this Abhiyana was in bringing awareness on mixed tree culture and use of urban compost in seed ball culture. The Green Chamundi Abhiyana initiative will be extended to cover Mysuru city too, he added.

Rajeev Sneha Balaga President H.V. Rajeev, in his address, regretted the rapidly depleting forest cover. Stressing on the need for increasing momentum / awareness on seed ball culture, he said, the destructive practices by humans was largely responsible for global climate change.

Explaining the initiatives of the Abhiyanas, he said, with this greening initiative, green canopy will naturally increase and so also the bird population.

He thanked the co-operation extended by various organisations of the city for their effort in the launching of the initiative.

Jain Samaja's Praveen Jain and Amit Jain, Clean Mysuru Foundation Secretary Madhukeshwar, Dharmasthala Gramabhivruddhi Samsthe Convenor Santosh Pojary, M.P. Varsha of Credit-i and others were present.

Clean Mysuru is a registered non-profit organisation working towards promoting cleanliness by protecting environmental degradation through task-oriented activities.

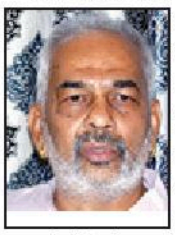
Centre has raked up cow slaughter issue only to cover up its failures: A. Manju



A. Manju

Mysuru, May 28(MTY&DM)- Claiming that the BJP led NDA Government at the Centre has raked up cow slaughter issue only to cover its failure in its 3 years rule, Animal Husbandry Minister A. Manju alleged that the Centre was playing with the emotions of the people.

Addressing a press meet at Jaladarshini Guest House here this morning, Manju said that the notification of Prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Regulation of Livestock Markets) Rules-2017 was not a new one on the ban on sale of cows for slaughter, as an act on illegal cow slaughter was introduced decades ago in 1964.

Alleging that the new set of rules will hurt millions of poor farmers and squeeze supplies to the country's meat industry, Manju said the new rules will badly affect the farmers, because they will be deprived of a traditional source of income from selling non-milching and ageing cattle.

Stating that as per the new rules, cattle cannot be brought to an animal market such as animal fairs, for sale for slaughter, he said now farmers can sell cattle only at APMCs and both the seller and purchaser are required to produce a certificate promising that the cattle will be used only for agricultural purpose. The new rules instead of being farmer-friendly in anti-farmer, he alleged.

Maintaining that the prevention of Cruelty to Animals (Regulation of Livestock Markets) Rules-2017, had many flaws, the Minister said that he would discuss the issue in the State Cabinet and the Centre will be asked to withdraw the Rules-2017 in the better interests of cattle owners and the farming community.

Accusing the Centre of not consulting the States before the introduction of the new rules, Manju said that it would be very difficult for the State to implement the rules as it is and called for a debate on the issue.

The Minister also warned of moving the Courts in the interest of farmers if the Centre did not take into confidence all the States as required in a federal structure, before introducing the Rules-2017.

Rain creates havoc in city

Trees uprooted, vehicles submerged in cellars

Mysuru, May 28 (MTY&KS)- Rain, accompanied with gusty winds including thunder and lightning has created havoc in parts of city.

The rains, which began at about 6 pm yesterday, stopped for an hour and started again with a drizzle for about half-an-hour and then began to lash continuously sending motorists and the public to take shelter.

While a tree was uprooted in Siddarthanagar, branches of trees fell on the roads in Devaraja Mohalla, Chamaraja Mohalla, N.R. Mohalla and surroundings disrupting the traffic. Many manholes were also seen overflowing in many parts of the city.

Rain water also gushed into about six houses in Paduvarahalli 1st cross and the residents were seen removing rainwater from these houses. Cellars of many apartments were also flooded with rainwater submerging the vehicles parked there.

Overflowing drain kills toddler

The overflowing drain was bang in front of the house and the couple's neighbours said that the child would have walked in a sleepy state.

Soon after the child fell, her parents and neighbours managed to fish out the girl and she was rushed to K.R. Hospital. The child died on the way.

Learning about the incident, Tahsildar T. Ramesh Babu visited the house this morning and offered a cheque of Rs. 4 lakh as compensation from the government. He told the parents that a post-mortem has to be conducted along with other legal procedures. But the parents refused a post-mortem and the Tahsildar paid Rs. 5,000 for cremation expenses. Pre-monsoon rain smiles on drought-hit Bandipur

Gundlupet, May 28 (Somji& BCT)- Heavy rain that has been lashing Chamarajanagar district over the last 15 days has brought relief to the denizens of Bandipur National Park. Almost all the lakes inside the Park have been filled up.

The Park has received good pre-monsoon showers and nearly half of Bandipur range, parts of Kundkere, Gundre, Hediyala, and Moolehole ranges, received rain, said T. Hiralal, Director, Project Tiger Bandipur.

The Bandipur National Park is spread across 1,02,700 hectares (1,027 sq kms) and the forest area covers a total of 13 ranges including 3 in Bandipur, four in Gundlupet and 6 in Hediyala.

Bandipur was going through one of the worst spells of drought and was ravaged by major forest fires that also claimed the life of a Forest Guard in Kalkare range. Vast tracts of forests and vegetation were reduced to ashes in the fire that occurred in the first three months of 2017. The worst affected ranges were Kalkare, Gundre, Maleyur and Gopalaswamy Hills.

Among the 373 lakes in Bandipur, 350 lakes had completely gone dry. Most of the lakes are now filled with sufficient water owing to heavy rainfall. Though the Forest Department had drilled some borewells using solar energy, they have not been effective as the ground water level was depleting.

As of to signal the filling up of lakes and increasing greenery, animals that had migrated to Kabini, Nagarahole, Mudumalai forests have returned to Bandipur. It is common for wild animals to migrate to other areas in search of water from January to May. "This year, the migration has come down to over 50 percent due to the measures taken by the Forest Department including solar borewells and other artificial ways of filling up the lakes. The rain that lashed initially was absorbed by the ground and now water bodies are getting filled up," Hiralal said.

In Bandipur range, 20 lakes including Mallikatte, Subbarayanakatte and Venkatapanapaala, have been filled to the brim. In Kundkere, all the 11 lakes including Kuntabasappanakatte, Hosakere, Kalikatte, Doddakere, and Chigurumaduvinakatte have been filled.

Likewise, 15 lakes out of 30 lakes in Gopalaswamy Range, 15 lakes including Navilukere and Madakere in Moolehole, 9 lakes in Maleyur Range including Seegewadikere and Dodda Dasanakatte, 21 lakes out of 26 lakes in Hediyala Range including Shambhukatte, Marigowdanakatte and Ankappanakatte and 33 lakes in Omkar range including Shanthakatte, Halakatte and Jammanakatte have been filled.

She breaks male bastion, dons the role of butcher

Mysuru, May 28 (SP&NNN)- It is women power today, in spite of atrocities against them on the rise. The Women's Reservation Bill for empowerment is still in the backburner. However, times are changing and slowly she is no way inferior to man, as she breaking new grounds, joining the army, driving buses, landing in space. It is heart-warming to see women from rural areas working in malls, hotels, beauty parlours and the list is endless.

She is now breaching almost every male bastion and one of the examples in our own city is that of Geetha Mani. She is a butcher assisting her father in running a mutton stall from a young age. The Kempegowda Mutton Stall, named after her father, is located near Surya Bakery Circle in Hebbal.

Geetha, 35, is married for about 18 years to Puttaswamy and since she believes in the dignity of labour, she is proud of the work she is doing. Every day she attends the shop and butchers sheep or goat meat depending on the demand of the customers. She herself slaughters the sheep, separates the different parts like head, legs, rib, sirloin, boti, cleans them and sells.

She hails originally from K. Mallenahalli near Chinnakurli in K.R. Pet taluk. Her father Kempegowda purchases live goat or sheep from Pandavapura, Katteri, Harohalli and surrounding places in Mysuru district and herds them in a godown. Depending on the demand, the sheep are slaughtered and sold.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, she said, "I am very proud of what I am doing. I help my father and I have my husband's cooperation too. I finish work at home in the morning and come to the shop." She has two sons — P. Sandeep who is studying in first year degree and the younger one P. Sagar studying in first year PUC.

More power to women like Geetha Mani and may her tribe increase.

Bamboo sprouts bring back elephants

Sprouting bamboo trees has resulted in increased sighting of elephants in Bandipur, Kabini and Nagarahole forests. Elephants are feasting on fresh sprouting of bamboo around lantana weeds. During the recently held elephant census, it was found that bamboo shoots had started sprouting below the weeds. This has made elephants to return to the forests and the maximum elephants were counted where bamboo growth was dense. Bamboo is the lifeline of forests and due to drought and absence of bamboo, elephants had resorted to peeling off tree barks for food.

BJP attempting to replace the Constitution: Prakash Ambedkar

Dr. B.R. Ambedkar's grandson Prakash Ambedkar is seen watering a sapling to inaugurate an awareness programme at Kalamandira here on Friday as other dignitaries look on.

Mysuru, May 28- Accusing the BJP-led NDA government of conspiring to replace 'Ambedkar's Constitution with Manuvadi Constitution,' Prakash Ambedkar, the grandson of Dr. B.R. Ambedkar has asked the dalits to come together to stop this.

He was speaking after inaugurating 'Save Constitution, Save Country' awareness programme organised by Dalit Swabhimani Sangarsha Samithi at Kalamandira here on Friday.

Maintaining that there is a threat to the Constitution and only dalits can save it, Prakash Ambedkar said that dalits have to fight injustice done to them all alone and they must unite to stop the gimmicks played by the BJP and the RSS.

Alleging that the BJP, led by Prime Minister Narendra Modi is trying to bring in a Constitution for establishing 'Vaidika Samskruthi', he said that Dr. Ambedkar's Constitution was designed for all sections and communities of the society. Ruing that dalits have lost their identity, he noted that dalits joining hands with the BJP for political reasons would be a disaster for the oppressed and weaker sections of the society.

Advising the dalits to stop the sections (left and right) among them, he asked the community to stay united for fighting injustice and discrimination.

Criticising the State BJP leaders' breakfast at dalit houses, Prakash Ambedkar argued that State BJP President B.S. Yeddyurappa had insulted dalits by having breakfast brought from hotels during his visit to the house of a dalit recently. He urged dalits not to serve even water when BJP and RSS leaders visit them.

Urilinga Peddimutt's Jnanaprakash Swamiji, in his address, said that a society which sells itself cannot become an authoritative society.

He called upon the dalits to assert themselves and not 'sell' their votes during elections.

Kollegal Vishvamaitri Buddha Vihar's Bodhiratna Bantheji, former Mayor Purushotham, Samithi President R. Mohanraj, office-bearers Basavaraj Kautal, Jyothi Vittal Vijaykumar, Jadeswami and others were present on the occasion.

WORD OF THE DAY

Unabashed

Pronunciation: un-uh-BASHT

Meaning: Not embarrassed or ashamed by something that has happened or been done or said: undisguised, unapologetic.

Origin: To abash is to shake up someone's self-confidence or self-possession, as illustrated by Charlotte Brontë in her 1849 novel Shirley: "He had never blushed in his life; no humiliation could abash him." When you are unabashed you make no apologies for your behavior, but when you are abashed your confidence has been shaken and you may feel rather inferior or ashamed of yourself. English speakers have been using abashed to describe feelings of embarrassment since the 14th century, but they have only used unabashed (brazenly or otherwise) since the late 1500s. Both words can be traced back to the Anglo-French word abair, meaning "to astonish."

THE ODD WORD

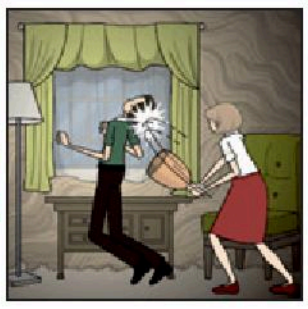
Oxyblepsia

Extremely keen sight

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Lamb to the slaughter

Meaning: In an unconcerned manner - unaware of the impending catastrophe.



Origin: It comes from the Bible (King James Version),
Jeremiah 11:19:
But I was like a gentle lamb led to the slaughter; And I did not know that they had devised plots against me, {saying,} "Let us destroy the tree with its fruit, And let us cut him off from the land of the living, That his name be remembered no more." and Isaiah 53:7:
He was oppressed, and he was afflicted, yet he opened not his mouth: he is brought as a lamb to the slaughter, and as a sheep before her shearers is dumb, so he openeth not his mouth. In addition to lambs, other verses in the Bible has other animals going 'to the slaughter', that is, oxen, bullocks and sheep. The allusion to the especial helplessness of lambs was made use of in the 1991 film The Silence of The Lambs. Geoffery Chaucer laid the groundwork for the phrase in the Man of Law's Tale, 1386:
For as a lamb is brought to slaughter, so
She stands, this innocent, before the king.
